

Don't Neglect THROAT Troubles

because the swollen glands and inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and impair their healthy action.

SCOTT'S EMULSION affords great relief because its cod liver oil is speedily converted into germ-resisting tissue—the glycerine is curative and healing, while the combined emulsion strengthens the lungs to avert lung trouble.

The digging up of some old shells in the rear of 1819 Emma street has aroused speculation as to when and why they were buried in the neighborhood of the queen's home many years ago. One of the theories advanced is that the old U. S. frigate Boston was in port more than a score of years ago and the shells were brought up and buried on the premises of a member of the then committee of safety, to be used in case of need.

KISHI CASE MAY YET BECOME ONE FOR DIPLOMACY

Appeal to Consular Channels and From These to Embassies Is Possibility

The Kishi case may become a subject of diplomatic interchanges between Japan, the United States and Great Britain, if the circuit and supreme courts of the territory should decide against the propriety of the legislature's grant of $12,000 to pay H. Kishi's bill for the feeding of immigrants held at the Honolulu quarantine station in December, 1911, and January, 1912.

Appeal to consular channels will be out of the question as long as Kishi has the chance of a remedy at law, but should the supreme court disapprove of the legislative grant, Kishi, who is a Japanese subject, by placing the matter before the Japanese consul here could undoubtedly have representations made to Washington.

The United States, in turn, would then take the case up with Great Britain, for the ship which brought the immigrants, and which under the charter is responsible for the money, is of British registry and ownership. Great Britain, it is thought, would in that event secure a speedy settlement of the claim, for it is unanimously conceded that Kishi carried out his contract in good faith and should have his claim settled in full.

Meanwhile the territorial board of immigration holds steadfastly to its determination not to approve the drawing of a warrant by the auditor, and Kishi's next move will be to throw the matter into the courts by a writ of mandamus.

METZGER TALKS AND F-4 RESOLUTION IS KILLED IN SENATE

House Concurrent Resolution 27, which is a memorial to Congress asking that it provide for the families and other dependents of the submarine F-4 was tabled in the senate yesterday afternoon, not one of the members of the upper house rising in defense of the measure.

"We should further no more of these grandstand plays by the speaker and members of the house of representatives," said Senator Metzger, reviewing the bill. "I don't like this playing up to the public by passing resolutions on everything."

The other members of the senate seemed to be of the same opinion as Senator Metzger. Some thought that a matter like this should be left to the navy department; that it is not up to the present legislature to take the step. Prior to being sent to the senate, the resolution was adopted unanimously by the house.

BARTLETT WILL QUIT BUT LOCAL CONTROL REMAINS

Though some credence has been given to the street rumor that the Seattle Brewing & Malting Company of Seattle was likely to obtain control of the stock of the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Company, it is now definitely determined that the majority ownership of the stock will continue in Honolulu.

No offer of any kind has been made by the Rainier people, nor by St. C. Sayres, manager of the Rainier bottling works in this city.

Charles G. Bartlett, president of the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Company, has not resigned, but will do so today or tomorrow, in order to bring about peace among the warring factions of the stockholders.

Mr. Bartlett, who has personally owned control of the company, is being sued in equity by some of the minority shareholders, who alleged misappropriation of approximately $22,300 of the company's funds, and ask for an accounting. No compromise agreement has, however, as yet been actually adopted by the warring factions.

In all probability when a reorganization and readjustment of the company is perfected Mr. Sayres will be offered the position of general manager of the company, but as yet he has not been approached.

BARTENAY FINDS HAWAII'S RELIEF WORK EFFECTIVE

No Need For His Special Efforts Here—He May Proceed to Manila

Arthur Bartenay of Toronto, who arrived on the S. S. Niagara last week to attempt the collection of a fund in Honolulu for distribution by the Franco-Belgian peasant relief fund, started by New York and Toronto women, has abandoned his plan so far as Honolulu is concerned, and will probably go on to Manila, with credentials from Secretary of State W. J. Bryan.

Mr. Bartenay met the Hawaiian war relief committee on Monday and after a consideration of the committee's effective work and large collections, decided not to make an appeal for his organization at this time. He may, however, stop here after his tour of the Orient and Australasia. Mr. Bartenay was amazed at the liberality of the people of the city and territory when he learned that already $67,000 had been collected for the war relief fund here.

BARBER SHOP AT POST IS LOOTED; TWO ARE HELD FOR THE THEFT

W. E. Laro and John Rosso, barbers at the post exchange Leliehu, woke up this morning to find themselves bereft of everything portable in the way of personal effects. Their watches were gone, as were cuff links, stick pins, cigar lighters, loose change amounting to $12—everything that could be carried out of their sleeping quarters.

When finally awake the two victims ran out to the quarters they had provided for Joe Morale, a Filipino, and Charlie A. Luke, a Chinese boy, whom they had hired to clean the exchange yard. They were missing also.

Laro then telephoned the police at Honolulu. When the first morning truck from Schofield Barracks bowed into town this morning it was stopped by a bicycle police at Kalihi pumping station. Morale and Luke were aboard but minus a good share of the loot. They had invested $1.51 at Aiea on food and red neck ties but handed over the watches and other articles which they had lifted while their late employers slept.

The prisoners were turned over to Marshal Smiddy, as the robbery was committed on a military reserve. The marshal is holding them on a remand pending a hearing before the grand jury tomorrow morning, after which an indictment will be returned for a bench warrant.

The would-be robbers admit their guilt but do not seem to take the affair very seriously.

IMPROVEMENT ON WATERFRONT IS PLAN OF BOARD

Out of the loan fund appropriation of $109,000 for Honolulu harbor, the harbor commission anticipates erecting warehouse sheds on Piers 8, 9 and 10 and several other improvements on the local and other island waterfronts. This was discussed at a meeting of the commission today.

Bids will be received for the removal of the marine railway from outside of the bulkhead line. It was announced at the meeting by Chairman Forbes of the commission that Kihel landing, Maui, will be made safe for the three large steamers of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company and that on approval of the approaches and channel lights by the light-house inspector, McGregor's lading, which the steamship company now uses, will be dismantled.
